An invitation to support children

Dear Sponsor or Donor,

ADAMA'S Foundation invites you to support our Fourth Annual Children's Christmas Festival. We are bringing children together for a day of food, entertainment, games, talent activities and gifts, and we would welcome your contribution to make the celebration possible.

Our working fundraising goal is approximately US$5,150, alongside donations of toys, food, drinks, prizes and services. A gift of any size is welcome. You may support the whole festival or choose a specific need that matters to you.

We also welcome contributions toward school fees and books. These will be recorded separately from the festival budget so that donors can identify how they want their support used.

Please review the contribution options and return the pledge form, or contact me directly to discuss support. I would be glad to agree on a suitable contribution and any sponsor recognition before you commit.

Thank you for helping us create a joyful Christmas celebration for children in our community.

Warm regards,
Adama Khadijah Fofana

How donations will be recorded

The festival plan is to record each pledge, distinguish promised support from received support, issue an acknowledgement when contributions are received, and keep expense records. Education gifts will have a separate entry so they remain identifiable.

After the festival

We plan to share a brief update with supporters covering the celebration, recorded attendance, contributions received and how resources were used. Suitable photographs will be shared where permission has been obtained.

Donor instructions

Please specify whether your gift is unrestricted, for an event item, or for education support. If an earmarked activity changes or cannot be delivered, we will contact the donor before using that gift for another purpose.

In Loving Memory of Abass Kamara

Abass Kamara was a young man remembered for his love of board games, playing with children, and his deep devotion to his faith. He resided in the Texaco community and was well known among the elders and young children. Abass was rarely seen without his board game, wristwatch, and water bottle. His watch held special importance because it helped him keep track of prayer times. Above all, Abass took his five daily prayers seriously and made them a priority.

Abass was diagnosed with epilepsy in 2025, after living with the condition for almost his entire life without a diagnosis. He faced frequent seizures, sometimes several in one day. Falls left him with painful injuries, and he had also lost two toes on his left foot. He endured misunderstanding and stigma from people who believed he was possessed rather than recognizing his medical condition.

Through ADAMA'S Foundation, Abass received support in accessing treatment, and his physical condition improved, although his seizures continued.

His passing leaves sadness in our hearts, but we also remember the things that brought him joy: a board game, a song, time with children, and his daily prayers. His life reminds us to offer compassion, dignity, and care to those who need our support.

May Almighty God grant Abass forgiveness, mercy, and Jannatul Firdaus. Ameen.
